Alexandria Gazette

TUESDAY EVENING, FEBRY. 27.

THE APPORTIONMENT QUESTION.-By the action of the Senate Saturday, it was decided that the apportionment of the members of the General Assembly, as contemplated by the W amended Constitution, "ought not to take effect A until November, 1879." This was the language of Gen. B. T. Johnson's resolution, which was adopted as a substitute for a resolution of Col. Penn, of Patrick—declaring that the Legislature had the power to put apportionment into effect "at the present session, and scener than November, 1879."

The question of when the apportionment shall be made (not put into effect) is not yet decided, and will not be until another severe struggle on the part of Senators. Now that the Senate by sion, it seems to be pretty well understood that it will extend beyond the additional thirty days from the 4th of March allowed under the Constitution. Many of the members of both bodies seem to appreciate the fact that this is their last opportunity of enjoying the pleasures of a winter in Richmond at the expense of the State, and will act accordingly .- Richmond Whig.

THE ALEXANDRIA GAZETTE and VIRGINIA ADVERTISER, already read by three generations, proposes to continue its useful life, and now enters into another volume, determined to be the newspaper of the era in Never have the times demanded more than now sound, thoughtful journalism. Seldom nave the people had deeper interests at stake. Never did the events of the hour, as they unfold themselves, surpass in personal interest to every citizen those which are now transpiring. Never has the importance of early, authentic intelligence of public matters been of greater miportance to every one.

To meet this new era in journalism, the Ga-ZETTE will put forth its utmost endeavor, and its success during this entire century in catering to the wants and meeting the wishes of the peo-ple, guarantees that with this paper promise means performance.

Washington s now the point to which all eyes look and all ears are directed. Almost at the base of the Capital, and yet in a Virginia. town, amid a community which has proved its faithfulness to Virginia in more than one flery trial; surrounded by the traditions and hopes of the Commonwealth, the GAZETTE has a position unique among journals and promises to be worthy of it. Its contiguity to Washington gives worthy of it. Its contiguity to Washingtongives it an early precedence over all the journals of the State in intelligence of the operations of the General Government, now of such vital importance to the people of the South. The proportion of the South portance to the people of the South. The pro-ceedings of Congress, seldom so interesting as now, will be regularly reported in succinct form for its columns, but all matters of especial inter-est in Virginia will be given in detail. Two gentlemen connected with the paper are constantly at the Federal capital, and the Washington news of the Gazette has for a long time been the fountain of Washington news for the

As the interests of the people mainly centre at home, no pains will be spared to chronicle all matters occurring in the city and neighborhood, carefully excluding unseemly expressions or gross narrative as unfit for a journal that is treasured at many thousand hearthstones of Especial attention will be devoted to presenting, as well from original sources of information as from its exchanges, the news of Virginia. Concisely and completely it will gives the

are the subjects of business transactions in this section of the country, carefully quoted. The continual favors of those who have once used the Gazette as an advertising medium is a warrant for saying that it pays to advortise in its

The Gazette came into existence before the opening of the present century. Few newspapers in the country are its seniors

During all this period its prominent object has been to advance the interests of the people of whose life it is the daily chronicle. Its fortunes have been their fortunes; it has shared their prosperity and suffered in their disasters. Its inspiration has been the desire to forward the best interests of the community in which it is located, and its own prosperity is, as it has been purposely made, inseparable from that of the community it aims to represent. When they grow rich it hopes for a reward commensurate with its labors. While they are poor it expects to work with them and for them, expecting to make their success the measure of its own.
